

Chris Handy is Chief Operating Officer of Engine Shop, a leading marketing agency that overlays traditional engagement marketing practices with digital and social media to further amplify brands activating in sports, entertainment and lifestyle. A lawyer and certified public accountant, Chris' prior career experience includes EVP, Business Affairs at Agassi Enterprises, Inc., Senior Counsel at the United States Tennis Association, corporate attorney at private law firms and auditor at Ernst & Young (New York). Chris is a graduate of Georgetown University and Harvard Law School.